

Quaker Days Schedule for the Roy and Diana Vagelos Program in Life Sciences and Management

Wednesday, April 18, 2018

11:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m.

Amado Recital Hall, Irvine Auditorium

LSM Directors Panel

LSM faculty co-directors Prof. R. Lawton Burns and Prof. Philip A. Rea will introduce the program and the LSM Freshman Proseminar. Peter Stokes, LSM Director of Advising and Administration, will join for Q&A.

12:00 p.m. to 1:00 p.m.

Café 58, Irvine Auditorium

Lunch with the LSM Program

Admitted students and their families are invited to join LSM students, faculty and staff for a buffet lunch and informal conversation

1:00 p.m. to 2:00 p.m.

Amado Recital Hall, Irvine Auditorium

LSM Student Panel

Learn from current LSM Students about their choices in the curriculum, their internships and extra-curricular activities and their plans after Penn.

2:00 p.m. to 3:00 p.m.

Amado Recital Hall, Irvine Auditorium

Commercializing Early-Stage Scientific Technologies

Steven Nichtberger, MD, Senior Fellow in Life Sciences & Management and Adjunct Professor in Health Care Management, will talk about his extensive experience in the life sciences industry, and describe the team-based Capstone course he teaches, in which LSM seniors develop commercialization plans for real-life scientific innovations.

3:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m.

Stephen A. Levin Building, 425 S. University Avenue (Guides will be available)

LSM Reception

Admitted students and their families are invited to mix informally with LSM students, faculty and staff in the LSM lounge.